Albany Public Library educates, entertains, and empowers our community.

Albany Public Library:

- Is committed to connecting the people of Albany to information to empower and enrich their lives
- Operates seven branches—Arbor Hill/West Hill, Bach, Delaware, Howe, North Albany, Pine Hills, Washington Ave.—in diverse neighborhoods across the city of Albany, NY
- Serves the 98,000 residents of the city of Albany (just about two-thirds have library cards)
- Is governed by an elected board of nine trustees and is funded by city taxpayers, with residents voting on the library budget every May
- Provides access to a collection of more than 350,000 materials, including books, magazines, eBooks, audiobooks, music CDs, and DVDs
- Provides 24/7 access to many services and collections, as well as digital books and materials, through a free mobile app and interactive website
- Delivers dozens of programs each week for all ages, including book talks and author events, movie screenings and music performances, art classes and music lessons, story times and early literacy initiatives, art classes and music lessons, wellness workshops and fitness classes, and career and finance workshops
- Provides building-wide WiFi connections, as well as public access computers and printers, and computer and digital device training assistance at all locations
- Hosts free literacy programs, tax preparation, and financial education services for Albany residents
- Houses the Pruyn Collection of Albany History, which includes many historical books, pamphlets, newspapers, photographs, city directories, and census records
- Hosts the Albany Made Creative Lab, full of making equipment including 3D printer and scanner, screen printing press, fiber arts materials, hand tools, and graphics and video editing software
- Provides unique items like bike repair stations, fishing poles, museum passes, musical instruments, and WiFi hotspots
- Offers meeting rooms, study rooms, and tutoring spaces for community groups
- Completed an award-winning $29.1 million project in 2010 to renovate three branch libraries and construct two new library buildings
- Has won numerous accolades, including five library design/building awards for the new/renovated branch libraries, as well as awards for adult and children’s programming and the full library system
